Simon Bajko

Academic & Professional Summary

- Diploma in Built Environment (Building)
- Accredited as an Assistant Building Surveyor
- Member, Australian Institute of Building Surveyors

Building Surveying Experience

Simon commenced employment in the building industry in 1990 as a Mechanical Service Plumber working on large scale commercial and industrial developments. In that role he acquired broad knowledge of building construction practices and techniques and project management skills.

During that time he undertook further studies in Building Surveying at the University of South Australia towards becoming accredited as an Assistant Building Surveyor. In 2002 he moved to Local Government, joining the Light Regional Council as a Development Officer and gained a thorough working knowledge of the Development Act and all aspects of development control.

Since joining Katnich Dodd in 2005 Simon's technical knowledge has progressed rapidly to the extent that he now assesses the full range of development types from residential through to major retail, commercial, aged care and industrial developments. Simon is a quietly confident achiever who possesses a strong work ethic and highly developed customer focus.
